

wpmudev

As you know, we're looking for some super talented people to come work at WPMU DEV. Are you the one we've been searching for?

This task sheet will help us figure out what kind of superhero you are.

Let's dive in!

Note: This is an important part of the process and helps us filter serious candidates. We will not review any applications with a missing or incomplete task sheet...so be diligent.

No trick questions but be sure and read to the end. (You can attach your answers under each question and send them back.)

1. Have you ever built a WordPress website, blog, or landing page (WordPress.org self-hosted). We would love to see an example of your work! Share a link to your finest site.

---

2. Are you a skilled technical writer? What guides have you put together? Link to examples of your work – docs, technical guides, tutorials, FAQ's. The more detail the better.

---

3. Finally, we know it takes a special mind to interpret technical information into organized, easy-to-understand, and detailed documentation day in and day out. Tell us why you are the right fit for this job and specifically for WPMU DEV.

---

4. Bonus: Have you ever created videos, graphics, animated gifs, or other training tools?
Show examples of your work.

---

wpmudev